Under section 152(6) (a) unless the articles provide for the retirement of all directors at every annual general meeting, not less than two-thirds of the total number of directors of a public company shall be persons whose period of office is liable to determination by retirement of directors by rotation.

(1 Mark)

In the given case, it is assumed that the 6 directors appointed at the first general meeting of the company constitute at least two thirds of the total number of directors.

Section 152(6)(c) further states that at every annual general meeting, one-third of such of the directors for the time being as are liable to retire by rotation, or if their number is neither three nor a multiple of three, then, the number nearest to one-third, shall retire from office.

(1 Mark)

Therefore, in the given case 2 directors will be liable to retire by rotation at the next AGM of the Company.

(1 Mark)

Section 152(6)(d) further states that the directors to retire by rotation at every annual general meeting shall be those who have been longest in office since their last appointment, but as between persons who became directors on the same day, those who are to retire shall, in default of and subject to any agreement among themselves, be determined by lot.

(1 Mark)

In the given case, all the 6 directors were appointed on the same date. Hence, the choice of the 2 directors who would retire at the next AGM of the company will be made either mutually by these 6 directors failing which; it will be decided by lots.

It will not make any difference under the Companies Act, 2013 if the company is a non profit organization.

Inspection of Books of Accounts of the Company (Section 128 of the Companies Act, 2013)-

(1 Mark)

Mr. Bhagvath has no right to carry out an inspection of the books of accounts of the company despite the fact that he holds 76% of the equity shares of M/s Renowned Company Ltd. According to sections 128(3) and 206 of the Companies Act, 2013, following persons have the right to carry out the inspection of the books of accounts of the company.

- (i) Directors of the Company [Section 128(3) of the Companies Act, 2013]
- (ii) Registrar of Companies [Section 206 of the Companies Act, 2013]
- (iii) Such officer of Government as may be authorised by the Central Government in this behalf (Section 206 of the Companies Act, 2013).
- (iv) Such officers of SEBI as may be authorised by SEBI [Section 206 read with Section 24 of the Companies Act, 2013].

(4 Marks)

Since Mr. Bhagvath does not fall in any of above mentioned categories, he is not eligible to carry out the inspection.

[Note: According to Regulation 89(ii) of the Table F of the Schedule I of the Companies Act, 2013, a member shall have right of inspecting any account or book or document of the company only if conferred by law or authorized by the Board or by the company in general meeting]

Answer-2 (a) :

Section 197(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that a director may receive remuneration by way of fee for attending the Board/Committee meetings or for any other purpose as may be decided by the Board, provided that the amount of such fees shall not exceed the amount as may be prescribed. The Central Government through rules prescribed that the amount of sitting fees payable to a director for attending meetings of the Board or committees thereof may be such as may be decided by the Board of directors or the Remuneration Committee thereof which shall not exceed the sum of rupees 1 lakh per meeting of the Board or committee thereof. Further, the Board may decide different sitting fee payable to independent and non-independent directors other than whole-time directors.

From the above, it is clear that fee to independent directors can be increased from Rs. 30,000 to Rs. 45,000 per meeting by alteration of article by passing of special resolution.

Answer-2 (b) :

Under section 181 of the Companies Act, 2013 the Board of Directors of a company is authorized to contribute to bonafide charitable and other funds. However, in case the aggregate amount of such contribution in any financial year exceeds five per cent. of its average net profits for the three immediately preceding financial years, prior permission of the company in general meeting shall be required.

(2 Marks)

The section does not make it mandatory for the company to have a profit for making a charitable contribution in a financial year. As the amount of donation is restricted to the average of previous 3 years' profits, it is possible for a company suffering a loss to make a contribution provided it is to a bonafide charitable fund.

In the present case, even though the company has incurred a loss it can contribute to the charitable fund only if it is a bonafide charitable fund and the amount is upto the average of the preceding three years' profits. In case the contribution exceeds the limit, the approval of the members must be taken at a general meeting of the company.

Answer-3 (a) :

- (i) In terms of section 173(1) of the Companies Act, 2013, a company must hold a minimum number of four meetings of its Board of directors in such a manner that not more than 120 days shall intervene between two consecutive meetings of the Board.

Further, the proviso to this sub-section provides that the Central Government may by notification, direct that these provisions will not apply in relation to any class or description of companies or may apply subject to such exceptions, modifications or conditions as may be specified in the notification

Vide Notification G.S.R.466(E) dated 5th June 2015, section 173(1) shall apply to the company formed under section 8 of the Companies Act, 2013 only to the extent that the Board of Directors, of such companies shall hold at least one meeting within every six calendar months.

Further, as per section 174(4) of the Act, if a meeting of the Board could not be held for want of quorum, then, unless the articles otherwise provide, the meeting shall automatically stand adjourned till the same day in the next week, at the same time and place, or if that day is a national holiday, till the next succeeding day which is not a national holiday, at the same time and place.

It may be noted that on adjournment of a meeting, the meeting having started and not ended will not constitute a contravention of section 173(1) under which a company is required to hold four board meetings in a year and not more than 120 days shall elapse between two board meetings. In case of adjournment of the meeting, it shall be deemed to have been held on the date on which it was started and not on the date when the adjourned meeting was held.

Therefore, the provisions of section 173 shall not be deemed to have been contravened merely by reason of the fact that a meeting of the Board which had been called in compliance with the terms of that Section could not be held for want of a quorum.

As the meeting could not be held for want of quorum, it cannot be said that PQR Ltd has violated the provisions of section 173 of the Act.

- (ii) Under section 173(3) of the Companies Act, 2013 a meeting of the Board shall be called by giving not less than seven days' notice in writing to every director at his address registered with the company and such notice shall be sent by hand delivery or by post or by electronic means.

Section 173(4) further provides that every officer of the company whose duty is to give notice under this section and who fails to do so shall be liable to a penalty of Rs. 25,000. In the given case as no notice, was served on Mr. P and Mr. Q who are the directors of the company, thus, under section 173(4) every officer of the company responsible for the default shall be punishable with fine of Rs. 25,000.

Neither the Companies Act, 2013 nor the Companies (Meetings of the Board and its Powers) Rules, 2014 lay down any specific provision regarding the validity of a resolution passed by the Board of Directors in case notice was not served to all the directors as stipulated in the Act. We shall have to go by the provisions of the Act which clearly provide for the notice to be sent to every director failing which the resolutions passed will be invalid. The Supreme Court, in case of Parmeshwari Prasad vs. Union of India. (1974) has held that the resolutions passed in the board meeting shall not be valid, since notice to all the Directors was not given in writing. Notice must be given to each director in writing. Hence, even though the directors concerned knew about the meeting, the meeting shall not be valid and resolutions passed at the meeting also shall not be valid.

Answer-5 (b) :

The Companies Act, 2013 does not provide for the refund of any compensation paid by the company to its Managing Director, whole time director or manager. It only lays down the situations under which no compensation is payable for loss of office and one such situation is the commitment of fraud or breach of trust by the director.

(2 Marks)

Moreover, in Bell vs. Lever Brothers, (1932), Lever Brothers removed their managing director of a subsidiary by paying him compensation. It was afterwards discovered that during his tenure of office he had been guilty of so many breaches of duty and corrupt practices that he could have been removed without compensation. An action was then commenced to recover back the compensation money. It was held that Bell was not bound to refund the compensation money and to disclose any breach of his fiduciary obligation so as to give the company an opportunity to dismiss him. Thus, the Managing Director is not bound to refund the compensation. Hence, the company can not succeed.
